F. E. REPUBLIC BANKER HERE, SEES CHANCES FOR TRADERS

B. M. Berlatsky Tells Of Progress At Chita

STATUS OF BANK

Branches To Be Established All Over World

(Dalta News Agency)

The Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Bank of the Far Eastern Republic, Mr. B. M. Berlatsky, former Minister of Finance, in an interview here today said:

"The territorial proximity of China to the Far Eastern Republic and the mutual commercial interests of these countries ought to arouse the interest of commercial circles in China regarding the condition of affairs in the Far Eastern Republic.

"The markets of the Far Eastern Republic are being conquered by new firms in the most energetic manner and their proximity to the territory of the Far Eastern Republic, where a new economic policy has been established, affords a wide field for investment by private firms.

Absolutely no doubt exists now in the minds of those persons who are at present resident in the Far Eastern Republic or are closely connected with it as to the ultimate success of the Republic which is now on the high road with respect to its economic development.

"The Far Eastern Republic has achieved a great deal during the comparatively short term of its existence. The Government administrative machinery, which has passed from a state of almost complete destruction to one of complete harmony working together with all the existing organs of self-government, through their own provincial People's Assemblies, compares favorably now with that of other Republics of the world. Transportation which was completely ruined has been brought up to a state of perfection guaranteeing almost normal transport and even the running of express trains. The paper currency which had fallen beyond the realm of possible calculation has been replaced by a gold currency, which was introduced by the government of the Far Eastern Republic by law passed on May 15, 1921.

GREAT PROGRESS MADE

"I don't wish to convey the opinion that I consider the Far Eastern Republic ideal, but I can nevertheless assert that life in the Republic is perfectly satisfactory and that trade and industry are progressing and there are all the symptoms of their further development.

"Our Customs Department which registers the imports and exports of the Republic indicates an increase in both monthly. Quite a number of government undertakings which lay heavily formerly on the State Treasury have now emerged on the path of becoming self-supporting. The production of gold is being encouraged by the government of the Far Eastern Republic, as also the development of our natural products such as furs and lumber.

"Certain results have been achieved and their future possibilities are undoubtedly colossal which will be proved during the forthcoming year.

"Quite a large number of capitalists are conducting negotiations at present regarding various concessions. Prior to my departure a conference of specialists and representatives of the various departmental ministries was held proposing that several of the industrial undertakings belonging to the State be established on a share basis. This will be the co-operation of the State with private capital.

"A similar kind of co-operation has already been introduced into the Bank of the Far Eastern Republic which is already confirmed and established. Reckoning that this bank will play the dominating role in the financial and economic life of the Republic this latter has acquired 55 percent of the total amount of shares and has placed 45 percent on the market. The founders of the Bank are the Government of the Far Eastern Republic, the Centrosoyous, All Russian Central

FRANCE MAY 'ACT ALONE, AND WITH GUNS,' TO COLLECT

Louis Dubois, Reparations Chief, Threatening

Paris, March 30.—Louis Dubois, president of the reparations commission speaking here declared:

"France is powerful enough to act alone in enforcing the execution of the Versailles treaty with the cannon and bayonet if necessary."

London, March 30.—The members of the British Delegation to the Genoa Conference, who leave on April 7, will not be accompanied by special police, but will rely on the Italian Government's assurance of ample protection.

The Bolshevist delegates are not satisfied with the allocation of Rapallo as a place of residence, apparently fearing that the daily 20 mile journey to Genoa will be running the gauntlet. The Italian authorities' measures for their protection include the guarding of their hotel by a strong force of carbineers and military police.

The Japanese, who complained that their quarters were too far away, have now been assigned lodgings in Genoa. The elaborate preparations for the accommodation of the delegates include the placing of the palace at the disposal of the journalists.

The strike of the dock hands, which threatened to disturb the amenity of the conference was settled today.

Paris, March 30.—The Cabinet discussed at length the Genoa Conference question, according to the Matin, and completely agreed upon the attitude to be adopted, namely co-operation in European reconstruction, but opposed and expressed surprise at the introduction of political questions, such as the recognition of the Soviet Government or purely Inter-Allied questions like reparations.

M. Dubois, Chairman of the Reparations Commission, in a speech, declared that Germany could and should pay her reparations, and if necessary the Allies would resort to force.

London, March 30.—The Independent Liberal Members have given notice of an amendment to the vote of confidence in the House of Commons today approving the holding of the Genoa Conference, and regretting the limitation of subjects for discussion there but declining to express confidence in the Government in regard to it.

American Troops To Stay In China

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Washington, March 27.—The provisions of the House of Representatives Military Appropriations Bill which would have necessitated a withdrawal of some of the American troops from China have been stricken out. This ends the discussion as to troop withdrawals and is in effect an announcement that the American government does not contemplate any changes for the immediate future.

IRISH PEACE PACT SIGNED, BOTH SIDES TO CO-OPERATE

Ulster And Southen Governments To "Do Utmost"

BOUNDARY PLAN

Parliament To Be Asked For £500,000

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 30.—"Peace is today declared," is the stirring message proclaimed in the first article of the terms of the Irish agreement, reached at the London conference.

As announced by Mr. Winston Churchill in the House of Commons tonight, the agreement lays down that from today the northern and southern Ireland governments will undertake to co-operate to the utmost with a view to the restoration of peace in the unsettled areas. A scheme is described whereby the Belfast police will be organised with specific regard to the religious composition of the force.

Article IV. of the agreement provides for trial without jury for offences punishable by above six months imprisonment. An Outrage Complaints Committee will be established in Belfast, and Irish Republican Army activities in Ulster are to cease.

It was agreed that before Ulster exercises the option to contract out under the Government of Ireland Bill, northern and southern representatives should confer as a means of securing unity in Ireland or, alternatively, endeavor to settle the boundary question without recourse to the Boundary Commission.

The British Government will ask Parliament to vote £500,000 for relief works in northern Ireland, one third of which will be for Catholics and two-thirds for Protestants.

(China Press Service)

London, March 30.—Representatives of the Irish Provisional Government and the Ulster Government have signed and British Government representatives have countersigned an agreement designed to restore peace in Ireland.

This peace, according to the terms of the agreement is to be brought about by co-operation between the Northern and Southern Governments of Ireland.

The signing of the agreement, which is the first documentary evidence that Ulster and the South of Ireland have any desire for reconciliation, is hailed with rejoicing in political circles, while the press comment is hopeful in the extreme.

Dublin, March 30.—The raid on Freemans Journal is believed to be a sequel to the paper's publication of the report of the proceedings of the secret convention of the DeValera section of the Republican Army, Sunday. The paper appeared this morning from hand bills with a defiant editorial. Armed Republican Army men tore them down wherever they were posted.

Sonnet To Lydia Lipkowska

By Bruce Hopper

OH come, Lydusha, sing to us again,
A wistful Cradle song, that sleep may seal
All child-like eyes, and tender hush may heal
The hearts that ache from weariness of pain;
Your lyric flights of silvery refrain
Caress us winsomely,—you make us feel
The clutch of tiny hands in mute appeal,
And hear the lost ones crying on the plain.

WHEN in that land whence all the birds have flown,
The famine palls, and mothers try to sing;
When orphans cease to hunger o'er the blown,
Like droves of sheep to wintry herbage cling;
When Holy Russia resurrects her own,—
We'll hear your song, the Voice of Sweetest Spring!

Shanghai, March 31.

DR. SCHURMAN IS GUEST OF OFFICIALS AT DINNER HERE

Minister Tells Of America's Friendship For China

FINE RECEPTION

Admiral Tsai And Commissioner Hsu Are Also Speakers

"I shall carry away the most pleasant recollection of the generous hospitality and extraordinary kindness with which I have been received here when I sail away tomorrow for the North," said Dr. J. G. Schurman, United States Minister to China, at the dinner given last night at the Naval Club by Chinese local authorities.

The hosts were General Ho Feng-lin, Defense Commissioner of Shanghai; Admiral Chang Tseng, Chief of the Admiralty; Mr. Hsu Yuan, Special Commissioner of Foreign Affairs; Tsoyin Wang Keng-ting; General Hsu Kuo-liang, Superintendent of the Chinese constabulary; Mr. Tao Yuen, Customs Superintendent, and Mr. Shen Pao-chang, Magistrate of the Shanghai City.

Mr. Hsu delivered the speech of welcome and Admiral Tsai Ting-kan, director of the Tariff Revision Commission, was the other principal speaker.

After expressing his keen appreciation of the kindness of his hosts, the American Minister stated that no doubt one reason why he had been so royally entertained during his trip round the country was because he represented a nation animated, in the words of his friend, Admiral Tsai, by the spirit of "sympathy, friendship and assistance" to China.

PRAISES CHINESE

"People feel that I am sincerely interested in the Chinese. I admire them for their virtues, for their historical glories, their civilisation and intellectual attainment. China is going through a great revolution, not only in politics but also in civilisation. In her political, educational and social institutions, she is undergoing great changes. Perhaps no other country in the history of mankind has been called upon to undergo such great changes as China is being called upon today. The people are wrestling heroically with their many troublesome problems. I appreciate the magnitude of that task and I am confident of the successful outcome of the great change.

"However, my personal sentiment has very little to do with these. The Chinese people all know either accurately or vaguely that the United States is their friend that China has. My friend, Admiral Tsai Ting-kan found in America sympathy, friendship and assistance everywhere found in America sympathy, friend- from Boston to Seattle. These are the genuine sentiments of the American people and they have never been obscured since the beginning of our relationship with China.

REFERS TO LORD BRYCE

"My people are generally considered as a trades people but they are more than that. Perhaps no other foreigner understood us better than the late Lord Bryce of Great Britain. Lord Bryce, in his books, said that while the American people where among the best trade people, there was a vein of sentiment. If you ignore that characteristic, you misinterpret the people.

"If we were pursuing an absolutely materialistic policy, why should we return you the Boxer indemnity? What selfish interest do we have in the Shantung settlement? The same spirit of unselfishness animated the influence of the Washington Conference, at which China made extensive gains through Amer-

American Financier Says Reunion Is Essential For Future Welfare Of China

Webster, Noted Banker, Gives Message From U. S. At American University Club Tiffin; Francis Zia Talks On Bye-Law

Reunion in China is a thing essential for the future welfare of the country, in a sentence summarises the text of a message from the United States that was voiced yesterday at a tiffin gathering of the American University Club by Mr. E. S. Webster, a noted American financier and member of the powerful Boston firm of Stone and Webster whose activities range all over the world. Mr. George O. Muhlfield, Vice President of Stone and Webster, who is accompanying Mr. Webster on his trip to the Far East, also was a guest at the tiffin.

The tiffin was an enthusiastic affair and besides that of Mr. Webster, addresses of particular interest were given by Admiral Tsai Ting-kan, who is a member of the tariff revision body and was an advisor to the Chinese delegation at Washington, by Dr. Frederic Lee, American Economist Consul, and by Mr. Francis Zia, a member of the staff of THE CHINA PRESS and at the tiffin a representative of Chinese newspapers and publishers here.

HAS OPTIMISTIC VIEW

An optimistic note was sounded in the address of Mr. Webster who reviewed the swift changes that were brought about in the United States after the signing of the armistice and analysed their effect, particularly upon the commerce of the country.

Of striking significance was the assertion made by Mr. Webster that times in America are improving and in particular he said that with a growing market for high grade bonds in the United States money in plenty would be forthcoming for needs in China if the country only provides a stable government. He said a big demand existed in the United States for long term bonds supported by security of adequate nature and he added that there is plenty of money for all legitimate needs, saying it would be forthcoming whenever proper security is offered.

Mr. Webster, concluding expressed the ardent hope that a strong government may soon be established in China and with this in prospect he foresaw a tremendous increase in investments in this country by American banking interests.

TELLS OF CONFERENCE

Admiral Tsai gave an intimate first-hand account of events of the Washington Conference in the course of his address, telling in particular how keenly the interest of the American public became aroused in the great international gathering and giving a full measure of praise to the work of the newspapermen who wrote for the world the day to day story of the Conference.

The speaker then told something of his experiences while making a lecture tour through Eastern cities where he again came in contact with the American public and their hunger to learn about Far Eastern questions.

MR. ZIA SPEAKS

The address of Mr. Francis Zia was devoted to an explanation of the proposed 'Printed Matter' bye-law which is to come before the Shanghai ratepayers at the coming annual meeting.

"The Municipal Council" said Mr. Zia, "is seeking to introduce what is called a 'Printed Matter' Bye-law. We have put up a vigorous protest against it in the firm hope that the moral support of the foreign community will be strong enough to defeat it.

"According to the said bye-law —it must be taken as it stands textually—you must get your registration first—and of course this can only be done inside of office hours—before you can print or publish anything that is news or that is a comment on news. The word 'print' means anything that is NOT handwritten. When you distribute anything, no matter what is the subject-matter of the thing printed, and the printer's name is not there, you violate the bye-law. The maximum penalties are $300 or 3 months in jail.

"In England only newspaper proprietors have to register. In the United States registration is not compulsory.

"If, therefore, you allow the bye-law to pass, you will have your right of freedom of speech infringed. In 1919 this Club was one of the champion organisations that fought successfully for the freedom of the press which was in danger of being licensed. A similar fight is now on, and April 19 will be the decisive day when the meeting of the ratepayers will take place. Won't you join the struggle and participate in the triumph?"

Doctor Frederic Lee, American Economist Consul, spoke but briefly with the purpose of presenting to the gathering the regrets of Dr. J. G. Schurman, American Minister, and Mr. E. S. Cunningham, American Consul-General over their inability to attend the tiffin.

No other business was done at this meeting, which lasted about two hours. The second meeting also occupied about two hours. COURT RECEIVES CONFESSIONS OF KOREAN SLAYERS

Japanese Tribunal Hears More Testimony Following Bund Shooting

Unfolding of testimony that can have but one end for Kim Eak Sang and Au Soong Nyuin, the two Koreans who shot down an American woman, Mrs. Grace Synder, while attempting to assassinate Baron General Tanaka, continued at two hearings yesterday in the Japanese Consular Court and will be resumed today.

The single dramatic element that developed yesterday was provided by Detective Sergeant W. J. McDermott of the Municipal police when he presented to the court the full confessions of the two youthful culprits.

"Kim", said Sergeant McDermott, "told the police that he was sorry Mrs. Snyder had been killed. He said they had not intended to harm her, but he admitted that they were trying to assassinate Baron General Tanaka."

Sergeant McDermott presented to the Court statements the two men had made to the police, adding that both would admit their guilt. Neither was questioned yesterday, however.

Besides the statements of the prisoners Sergeant McDermott presented photographs of the prisoners and of the scene of the shooting. He said in company with Detective Sergeant Doyle and a number of police of the French Settlement he had visited the residence of the two accused men on the night of the tragedy. This is located on Rue Eugene Bard and in a room said to have been occupied by the two men the witness said a quantity of ammunition, books, papers, a bomb detonator and a number of percussion caps were found. The automatic pistols that had been used by the two men also were produced.

On inquiry of Inspector P. W. Reeves the various exhibits in the case that had been collected by the Municipal Police were accepted by the Court. Concerning the bomb that was thrown and failed to explode Inspector Reeves said it was an old fashioned bomb and had failed to explode because it had been improperly handled.

All of the various incidents that immediately followed the shooting at the Customs Jetty, including the pursuit and capture of the two Koreans, was reviewed in the course of the testimony of witnesses yesterday. Besides the various Chinese police officers who had a part in the chase, Mr. Horace Gulick and Mr. Jensen who assisted in the capture of the two men told in detail the circumstances of the affair.

Several members of the party of eight of which Mrs. Snyder was a member were called for further testimony yesterday and a statement was made also in camera by the stricken husband, who is remaining in Shanghai and shortly will return to his home at Brazil, Indiana. He will sail on the steamer Wenatchee of the Admiral Line, scheduled to leave this port for Seattle on April 9.

Mr. H. A. Thompson, who was one of the others shot when Mrs. Snyder was killed and who has been under treatment at the Shanghai General Hospital was said to be out of danger yesterday.

ican sympathy, friendship and assistance!"

ADMIRAL TSAI SPEAKS

Admiral Tsai in his usual humorous vein took up Dr. Schurman's thought and expanded upon the subject of American unselfishness. He said that while it is true that Americans do chase after the almighty dollar, they regard the dollar as a ladder to accomplish something more lofty.

"When I was in Washington, the foreign delegates were in doubt of the sincerity of the United States. Like tricky card players, they thought Uncle Sam had tricks up in his sleeves. American unselfishness could not be understood by the diplomats of the European school who are used to tricks, intrigue and suspicion. America was misjudged and misunderstood. Yet, like a vigorous boy, large hearted, successful in life and devoid of trickery, the United States was charged with having ulterior motives at the Washington Conference.

"Europe forgot that America had lent eleven billion dollars gold for the Allied cause. Is that selfishness? Is that materialistic? Today when there is a famine in Russia, America is sending millions of dollars and shiploads of grain for relief."

HSU GIVES WELCOME

Commissioner Hsu's speech of welcome was as follows:

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I am, on behalf of my colleagues, welcoming you tonight here as our guest of honor. We all are keenly sensible of the honor of having you with us tonight. The welcome we are extending to you is a sincere one coming from the bottom of our hearts.

"We all greatly appreciate the cordial friendship your country has always shown to us, and I am only stating an actual fact when I say that not only are our official relations the most friendly ones but our people as a whole are accustomed to look upon Americans as our brothers from the other side of the Pacific.

"On behalf of all present I raise my glass wishing Your Excellency a pleasant journey, and all success in your exalted position in Peking."

The band of General Ho Feng-lin played some patriotic airs during the evening. Among the guests present were Admiral Ho Ping-chang, Colonel Wang Yuan, Judge T. S. K. Loh, Consul-General E. S. Cunningham, Dr. F. E. Lee, Consul R. P. Tenney, Vice-Consul J. E. Jacobs, Vice-Consul J. B. Sawyer, Mr. P. R. Josselyn, Major C. P. Holcomb, Mr. L. Hoyt, Captain L. C. Richardson, Mr. V. G. Holwhit, Mr. F. J. Schuhl, Mr. M. Engel, Mr. M. Gale and Mr. George A. Fitch.

Dr. Schurman will be guest at a reception to be held at the clubhouse of the American Returned Students' club, P60 Nanking Road, this morning at 10:45 o'clock. All students who have attended American colleges, whether men or women, members of the club or non-members, are invited to attend.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME

In opening his address Mr. Tsai mentioned the Tariff Revision Conference of 1918 of which he was a member and told something of the purposes of the coming conference.

In the midst of destruction in the Great World War, said Admiral Tsai, the Tariff Revision Commission sat in 1918 in this very room to do a bit of re-constructive work. Again in the midst of social and political upheaval, amidst commercial and economic disturbances we are sitting here today with the specific object of readjusting prices and fixing a new Tariff.

This Commission will not only be fixing a five percent ad valorem duty for imports. Consciously or unconsciously it will be solving one of the world's problems. Its duty is a part of international co-operation—Co-operation of all peoples is the path to the world's problems. Its duty is a part of international co-operation—"Co-operation of all peoples is the path to the world's salvation," as some one said. If we realise this higher part of our duty we will have a clearer notion of what we should do and shall do.

I quote from a recent journal the following: "The greatest project confronting the statesmen of Europe today is the restoration of the equilibrium of the world." Much good can be obtained through representatives of all countries rubbing elbows, coming into close contact with one another, discussing problems at the conference table and having opportunities of viewing a subject from the other countries' point of view, but actual economic reconstruction and revival can only be brought about by prolonged hard work and the co-operation of all peoples.

So far as I am aware there is in all human transactions no absolute advantage to one party and absolute disadvantage to another party. If this state of affairs does exist it cannot last long. It is not within the nature of things that the world shall roll on one-sided and out of equalibrium. The evidences of natural law and human history are against [illegible] Therefore in our coming work, while we are taking care of our own national interests let us not forget the other parties' needs. Let us not forget "to view the subject from the other countries' points of view." An impoverished China will reduce her buying power, and thus cripple your trade with our people. A constant evaporation from the ocean without rainfall will soon dry up the rivers and seas. Give and take has been and will continue to be the golden rule in trade and commerce as well as in all things else.

Mr. T. Raaschou, Consul-General for Denmark replied to Admiral Tsai's address and other brief speeches were made by Mr. H. H. Fox and by Mr. Jean Knight.

CONFERENCE HERE TO STRAIN CITY'S ACCOMMODATIONS

National Christian Assembly Will Bring 1,200 Delegates To Shanghai

Indications are that a number of delegates to the National Christian Conference are planning to have their wives accompany them—though they may not be delegates. In addition there are others—not delegates—who are expecting to come as visitors to the Conference and are applying for entertainment through the Hospitality Committee or are making private arrangements with friends or hotels in Shanghai.

In view of these facts, the Conference Committee announces that none but duly accredited delegates with proper credentials will be admitted to the Conference—and requests that unless very urgent matters necessitate the presence of non-delegates in Shanghai during the Conference period they lighten the burden of entertainment by postponing their visit to Shanghai to a more opportune time.

The Conference Committee has been greatly distressed because it is impossible to throw open the meetings to all visitors. This is recognised to be a "National Christian Conference" in which all missionaries take a rightful interest and which they have a legitimate desire to attend. Unfortunately no auditorium could be secured large enough. The Town Hall is the largest, and by Municipal regulations the audience is limited to 1,200. As this is the approximate number of delegates, it will be recognised that the Committee has no other recourse than to limit admission to delegates only.

Again, the entertainment of 600 foreign delegates in Shanghai is a difficult problem, and every home of a friend or room in a hotel that is pre-emptied by a non-delegate visitor, by so much increases the difficulty of the Hospitality Committee to place the Conference delegates.

In spite of the splendid co-operation of the community in opening their homes to the delegates, provision still needs to be made for about 125 of them. The representatives of the churches, the American Woman's Club and the British Women's Association have placed the matter before their several constituencies and it is felt that there are doubtless many who are planning to co-operate but have delayed notifying the Hospitality Committee. Offers of hospitality can be given to any of the following:

Discovered Too Late

TOO often the failure of men to provide for their families is not discovered till their death. Property may not be fully paid for, debts may have accumulated, titles may be questionable, will may be defective, or savings be inadequate. The consequences of such failure are often so serious that it is hard to see how men can be willing to take any chances.

IN such an important matter as this too great care cannot be exercised. The duty is one that a husband and father should be glad to perform—and to be sure that he had performed it.

THE one sure means for meeting this duty is life insurance. It is within reach of even moderate incomes. There is no other safe way whereby a man, for a small investment, can immediately create an estate that will fully protect his family.

SUGGESTING A SECOND ACCOUNT

The old idea in business was to get trade from your competitors—the new plan is to develop unrealized opportunities. The progressive bank of today depends for much of its growth on the improved financial habits of the public. It seeks to induce people who have NEVER saved money to COMMENCE saving it, and to persuade those who previously have saved a LITTLE to save even MORE.

So even if you already have one account, we suggest the wisdom of opening a second account with us either for savings or for some other special purposes.

CHITA ARMY NOW IN NEUTRAL ZONE; IMAN IS TAKEN

Japanese Make No Effort To Impede Victors

(Delta News Agency)

Chita, March 27. — The People's Revolutionary Army is fighting the counter-revolutionaries south of Ussuri within the so-called neutral zone. The Japanese so far have not interferred with the onward movement of the Chita troops. In compliance with an order of the military council, mobilisation is being effected in the Habarovsk district.

In connection with the occupation of Iman by the People's Revolutionary Army, Commander Pomus of the east front, announced that Iman was occupied without fighting on March 13. At present the military units are pursuing the retreating enemy within the so-called neutral zone. Armored trains and considerable military units of the Kappelists have been disarmed by the Japanese at Ussuri station.

The hasty retreat of the Kappelists from their well-fortified positions at Iman was the consequence of their being unexpectedly surrounded by considerable forces of the People's Army which cut off their rear. The onward march beyond Iman has met no obstacles from the Japanese. Railway communication will be reestablished in a few days.

"Our next task," says the communique, "is to free the Maritime province from bandits and to establish law and order according to the constitution of the republic. A delegation came up to see me at the front, consisting of representatives of the population of two important regions in the Maritime province, with an appeal to save the province from the hardships of civil war and foreign intervention.

"Activities of the partisans, punitive expeditions of the Japanese, and moving of the Kappelists from one place to another, are always a heavy burden for the population. In the Iman region our troops are welcomed by the peasants and Cossacks. The spirit of the army is beyond praise. One can rest assured that the existence of the bandits and traitors in Vladivostok soon will end."

QUIZ POMEROY IN ACTION IN BRITISH COURT

Cross-examination of Mr. P. F. Pomeroy in the suit which he is prosecuting against Mr. P. Quelch, of Messrs. Garner, Quelch and Co., was continued in the British Supreme Court yesterday. Mr. Pomeroy is asking Gold $4,000 for a certain tract of land sold to the defendant, Tls. 5,000 under contract of service, and Tls. 20,000 for wrongful dismissal.

Mr. Pomeroy's testimony yesterday was largely concerned with his conduct of financial matters during the absence of Mr. Quelch abroad. He admitted that he had not sent any money to Mr. Quelch during the first three months of his absence, as he had then been in Canada, and any money remitted would have to go to London long before Mr. Quelch's arrival. In June, he said, he had received a letter from Mr. Quelch asking why he had not sent the remittances regularly on the first of each month and requesting him to wire the money immediately. He said that he had arranged with the Asia Banking Corporation to cable £3,000, opening a credit for that amount following receipt of a cable from Mr. Quelch on September 4. In September he had also instructed the bank to pay Mr. Quelch £100 for three fortnights.

In response to questions by counsel for the defense, Mr Pomeroy admitted that he did not recollect having told Mr. Quelch that he had overdrawn his account.

Senate Ratifies Last Of Treaties

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, March 30.—After the Chinese Treaty the Senate ratified the Chinese Tariff Treaty, thus sanctioning the whole of the Washington Conference decisions.

The debate on the Chinese Treaty revolved on the question of the extent of the pledge "to provide the fullest and most unembarrassed opportunity for China to maintain for herself an effective and stable Government."

Senator Underwood, in replying to heckling questions, insisted that the Treaty did not contain any obligation to use force.

The Treaty was adopted unanimously.

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 30.—The Senate has unanimously ratified the nine-Power Far Eastern Treaty which is designed to carry forward the open door policy in China. There were no reservations and no amendments, although some Senators contended that the United States was obligated under this treaty to use force to protect China's integrity.

The Senate then completely approved the arms conference treaties by ratifying the last pact of the series, namely that of the Chinese tariff.

Representative Mondell in a statement which he had prepared as an address to the House said that Congress and the President were not at loggerheads despite the impression created by various agencies and newspapers.

He challenged anybody to find a record of "finer relations" and more "harmonious co-operation" between any President and Congress.

Y.M.C.A. SCHOOLS EXPAND TO MEET POPULAR DEMAND

With the beginning of the new term the organisation of the Y.M.C.A. Day and Evening Schools of Commerce has been perfected so that the work of the schools can be more effectively handled. This reorganisation calls for a Cabinet Council made up of the executive staff and a staff council composed of the faculty to which matters of policy and administration can be referred.

A new feature is a school library and reference room. This has been fitted up with the necessary furniture and there are kept on file all of the latest publications. The library at present consists of 3,000 volumes in Chinese and 1,500 volumes in English and is open during school hours and is of great assistance to the students.

CAPACITY STRAINED

Realising that ability to express one's ideas fluently is a basic factor in developing the student, the school authorities have invited composition specialists to devote their whole attention to the students' composition work. With this in view, Mr. O. K. Yui and Mr. U. Z. Tsen have been secured to supervise the composition courses in the school. The composition teachers will hold regular sessions once a month for the purpose of raising the standard of the students in that direction.

The growth of the Association Day and Evening Schools of Commerce has filled the two buildings to their maximum capacity and special classes have been opened from 5:30 to 7 p.m. five evenings each week in order to accommodate the students who cannot be received at any other hours. There are at present 457 students in the Day School of Commerce and over 800 in the Evening School. The new classes will provide for 150 students.

ORGANISE NEW BRANCH

A branch of the student Y.M.C.A. is being organised in the Association High School. It will be represented by a delegate to the Christian Federation convention next week in Peking.

As its part in the membership campaign, the students of the Association High School of Commerce devoted a whole day to securing funds for the school for poor boys. The sum of $1,500 was raised. Students of the school serve as volunteer teachers in this school, which is educating a group of boys, who otherwise have no opportunity of securing education.

The basket ball league made up of teams from ten middle schools recently concluded a very interesting series of games. The championship of the league for this year was won by the Y.M.C.A. School. The schools represented were Shanghai Middle, Chenchong, Yates Academy, Soochow Academy, Kashing Middle, Pootung Middle School and Y.M.C.A.

EX-POLICEMEN FOUND GUILTY OF ARMED ROBBERY

Sensational Charges Of Assassination Plot Made Against Bank Men

Three ex-policemen of the Municipal force were found guilty of armed robbery by the Mixed Court yesterday and will return to that tribunal for sentence after being tried for similar offenses by the Chinese City Court.

Sensational charges that one of the men had been hired to assassinate the complainant in a civil action at the Mixed Court and in this connection warrants were ordered to issue for the arrest of two officials of the Haimen Bank who are alleged to have done the hiring. The ex-policeman declared the statement of the police to be true and said that he had been engaged to kill a Mr. Sah, who is suing the Bank officials, charging misappropriation of funds. Mr. Schoenfeld, appearing the Mr. Sah, asked for the warrants for these men.

The ex-policemen were arrested following the capture of an armed robber by the Chinese police at Lunghua. On information given by this man Detective Inspector Cruickshank rounded up the trio, finding one man asleep in a Hwakee Road lodging house with a loaded revolver under his pillow.

Two of the men admitted participation in armed robberies occurring at 575 Carter Road, on March 15, and at 811 East Yuhang Road, on January 25. All of the trio had been dismissed from the Municipal force within the past, three months.

THERE is a distinguishing feature in the business of the house of HAIG & HAIG. Most Distillers have various brands of varying qualities. HAIG & HAIG have one brand only, and they claim (and the public acclaim) that it is the finest that goes from Scotland.

It is a regrettable fact that all retailers have not the same high standard of commercial honesty, and it is known that cheaper brands are sometimes passed on to the public under the label of houses of high repute.

When you see a genuine bottle of HAIG & HAIG Five Stars Scots Whisky it will be the same fine quality in London, in Lucknow, or in Labrador; in the Langham Hotel, in the G.O.H. at Colombo, and in the best Clubs in Cape Town.

Haig & Haig Five Stars Scots Whisky

A second quality Haig & Haig could not be filled into a Haig & Haig bottle because there isn't a second quality.

Haig & Haig is also known easily by the fact that you pay a little extra for it.

Say HAIG & HAIG or you may get a cheaper brand substituted.

On the principle that "a little and good" is better for you, you can be gently stimulated by the use of Haig & Haig at no increased cost

CARTOON ATTACK ON WOOD STIRS P. I. AMERICANS

Veto Of University Bill Basis Of Insulting Picture

(China Press Service)

Manila, March 30.—The cartoon printed in the Philippine Herald, Sunday, is the most flagrantly insulting anti-American publication since the occupation of the Philippines by the United States, in the opinion of the majority of American residents.

The picture shows a big bully labelled "Wood" stabbing a female Filipino figure labelled "aniversaity" through the heart with a big dagger labelled "veto power." The cartoon bears no caption, nor is the name of the artist appended.

The brutish, fiendish expression on the face of the American figure and the general effect of the picture is such as to arouse resentment on the part of all Americans.

The picture is considered libelous by American legal authorities who declare it is seditious as well.

The Herald is the official organ of Quezon and the so-called Collectivista party, a faction of the Nationalista organisation that is loudest in its clamor for immediate independence. The picture marks another step in the progressive campaign of opposition and defiance carried on by a group of American-educated students led by Maximo M. Kalaw, "dean" of the College of Liberal Arts in the University of the Philippines.

This campaign has grown in venom since General Wood vetoed sixteen bills passed by the last legislature session for the development of the University, which now is far in advance of the real educational needs of the Filipino whose politicians would starve the lower schools so that the "illustrado" class, or what the half-tutored Filipino hopes to make the University graduate, can be turned into lawyers without brief and doctors without hope of patients.

This class of young malcontents whose vista of many fat professorships and kindred jobs has been made empty air by the veto, now claim that the Governor General cannot exercise the veto power except in matters directly affecting American sovereignty.

The American community has been roused to a high pitch of excitement and indignation. Some fear that General Wood will take drastic action when he returns on March 30 from his inspection trip to Mindanao. The majority of Americans say that while the Filipinos must be considered as children, still some punishment or corrective action must be meted out to those who inspired this seditious cartoon.

ARMY AND NAVY MEN OBJECT TO TOO DRASTIC CUT

Big Navy Advocates And Gen. Pershing And Harbord Express Views

(China Press Service)

Washington, March 30.—Big Navy advocates made their first move today to prevent the reduction of the enlisted personnel to 65,000 when Mr. McArthur announced that he would offer an amendment to the appropriation committees bill thus providing for 86,000. He said many Navy Committee men oppose the cut to 65,000 men when Japan will have 88,000 and Great Britain 104,000.

Generals Harbord and Pershing jointly stated the Army's opposition to further reductions before the National Press Club today and said the bill that had passed house undermined the best system of preparedness the nation ever had.

General Pershing said that 150,000 men and 12,000 officers was absolutely essential and that the reduction of overseas garrisons was impossible without violating the soundest principles of security. The Army's requirements for the defense of the Canal Zone and Hawaii already are at a minimum.

He also emphasises the importance of the Philippines in the event of any naval operations on the Pacific.

The performance, he says, was a joke to those that were present, and the air that was played again and again during the march past would probably have caused either Souza or Pryor to collapse with convulsion beyond medical aid. Wenatchee Captain Is Dead At Manila

Cable advices received by the local offices of the Admiral Line yesterday told of the death at Manila of Captain H. C. Thomas of the Steamer Wenatchee, one of the veteran sea-faring men on the Pacific.

For nearly half a century, Captain Thomas, who was 70, was a familiar figure on the Pacific Coast. For many years he was captain of the Admiral Line steamer Governor, which plied between Seattle and San Diego. When the Governor sank off the coast of Washington, Captain Thomas was transferred to the company's trans-Pacific service.

Captain Thomas was ill when the Wenatchee passed through Shanghai on its present voyage and Captain H. R. Long joined the ship when it passed through Hongkong and Captain Thomas' illness was unabated. Death was due to diabetes.

Final League Football Matches To Be Played Today; Many Games On

Club First And Engineers On Polo Grounds Will Play Feature

The league football season will virtually close today with the playing of three league games and two or more friendlies. There likely will be other games later with the First Division opposing the Second, and finally a selected team representing Shanghai opposing The Rest, but league football practically closes this afternoon.

Of the games scheduled from the regular fixture card, none can have any bearing on the standings. The Club first and the Engineers will play the best match of the afternoon on the Polo Ground, but no league value attaches to it. The Club is in firm possession of first position, and the Engineers are well placed at second. The Recs and Portuguese game, the only other first division match which is slated for Hongkew can not alter final standings.

In the second division, the leaders, the Club 2nds were booked against the Jewish on the Club grounds but later a friendly match was arranged with the Navy when the Jewish found it not possible to put out a team. The Recs are scheduled to meet the Portuguese 2nds on the Widow's Monument field in the sole second division match. The game cannot affect standings. The Club 2nd lead the league safely, and other places are just as secure.

Other friendly matches announced for the day include a game between the Shanghai Public School Past Boys and the Present Boys, to be played at Hongkew Park commencing at 3 p.m. The following selections have been given out for the match:

S. P. S. Past Boys vs. S. P. S. Present Boys—Past boys: P. Madar, A. Ferris, T. Schneider, J. Mahon, G. Day, A. Remedios, G. Johansson, M. Moosa, J. Johansson, A. Reid, J. Lewis.

Present boys: W. Brockett, C. Brown, C. Siemssen, J. Levis, J. Pringle, J. Jacob, T. Madar, A. Jesu, D. Drake, Simons, E. Cumine. Reserves: V. Cooke, H. Whynne.

The following team has been selected to represent the S. F. C. in their matches:

SAYS 'BUGS' Baer:

GINK WAS VERY, VERY ARTISTIC

His Idea Of A Rainbow Was Anything That Was Black And Blue

BY "BUGS" BAER

SAY:

YOU think that Gink Fowler was some scrapper, but my man Dan Boyd from Astoria made his fights look like oysters on ice.

When he got mad he boiled like a New England dinner. He was so tough he made Samson look like thirty cents and three cents pleasure tax.

In his fight with Gink he slapped your bozo so hard they both had to go to the hospital.

He is old and gray now, but he will fight Gink again, provided he gets two hundred per cent of the gate receipts.

He could wallop him with his hands tied—to hammers.

Yours till warts stop growing on till pickles,

SINKER FLOTTZ.

Talk bout money. Gink once fought The Glutt on a hot stove for the gate receipts.

Queer thing about Gink when he was young & He used to laugh himself to sleep once a year thinking about the time he was teetching on a live crocodile.

We don't claim that Gink was tough. He was smacked by a double row of freight cars, but it didn't hurt him. He fell off a balloon. The distance was five miles. By the time that Gink bounced a couple of times he was well again. He wasn't tough. He was only stubborn.

When he was a baby his nurse used to cradle him in a cage. When he got mean they used to go out to the stone quarry and let the men dull their picks on his dome. When the Sandman came along they'd put one ton of granite into the concrete mixer. Then they would throw Gink in also.

When everything was nice and dy, they would turn on the works. The concrete confuser would start in to crush the granite. And at the same time it would rock Gink to sleep.

In this nimble way, they would kill two birds with one ton of stones.

After all the marble was powered, they would open up the business and out would crawl Mr. Gink completely refreshed after his tiresome nap.

He certainly was a nice little fellow.

S.V.C. Notes

"B" COMPANY, BRITISH

The Unit spent a very instructive week-end at the Rifle Range on Saturday and Sunday, 25th and 26th inst.

On Saturday 14 men fired their Recruits Course and on Sunday 15 men completed their Trained Men's Course. It is a matter for regret that the other 15 men who were detailed failed to turn up. These latter must now fire on the days allotted for the Course during the month of April or be returned as non-efficients. After the course was completed, 35 members fired the monthly cup competitions. In "A" Class Cpl. Davie made a possible with 14 shots at 300 yards and obtained a further leg on the cup. Pte. Wilson, in "B" Class, secured a second leg on the February Cup, while Pte. Parry, a very promising shot, secured his second win on the same cup for March. In "C" Class Pte. Marshall got his first leg on the February cup and Pte. Ferguson his first leg on the March cup. The Inter-Section competition was fired at the completion of the monthly cups. This took the form of a skirmishing competition at the figure targets starting from 400 yards and having the targets exposed for 30 seconds at 300, 200, and 100 yards. Each man was given 20 rounds. Sgt. Main's section, No. 3, won easily with 65 hits out of a possible 92.

It is hoped that all ranks will make special efforts to attend the weekly drills during the month of April which is the last of this year's training season. Two night operations will be carried out during April, details of which will be published later.

All drills and parades held in April will count towards the Efficiency Shield, so that good turn-outs are essential.

HOCKEY TRIAL ON TODAY TO SELECT INTERPORT TEAM

The Shanghai hockey interport selections committee which is trying out combinations for a strong team to visit Tientsin in the middle of April will have a new lineup in the field this afternoon against a team composed from The Rest, under Parrott's captaincy. Three changes are listed in the team's make-up.

Tilley who was selected last week on the first eleven for inside right drops back to the second team today, Oliveira taking his place. The latter last week played at right half back, which position today will be filled by Collacao. The one other change in the list is the substitution of Remedios for Richardson at outside left.

The three trials had so far of the interport team have not been satisfactory. In the first game the Probables drew with the Possibles at 2—all. A week later they were defeated 3-0 by the second eleven and on Wednesday managed to beat out eight Sikhs by a score of 7-1.

The test today will be a serious tryout of individuals and a teamwork practice.

Today's selections follow:

Shanghai Interport Team (Interport Colors).—Jones (J. P.), Cobb, Mann (Capt.), Faers, Harvie, Collacao, Remedios, Encarnacao, Morgan (Vice-Capt.), Oliveira and Leitao.

Mr. Parrott's Team (Colored shirts).—Tilley, Parrott (Capt.), Gomez, Gutteriez, Robarts, Souza and five members of the Police Hockey Club.

Shanghai And Soochow To Play Off 3-Way Tie For Basketball Title Tonight

Winner Will Meet St. John's On Wednesday For Right To First Place

Shanghai Baptist College and Soochow university basketball teams will meet tonight on the Nanyang College floor in the first of a three-cornered play-off for the East China Inter-Collegiate title which they share at four games won and one lost with St. John's University. The winner of the game will play St. John's at Nanyang on Wednesday.

St. John's qualified for the three cornered tie in first position by its win Thursday night over Nanyang College on their own floor. Nanyang made a bold try for the game in the first few minutes of play, but were soon overtaken and forced to trail the score to the finish. At half time the count was 16-14 in St. John's favor; the final score was 43-20. Mr. T. T. Zee refereed.

The final standings in the tournament were:

	won	lost	pctg.
Shanghai	4	1	800
Soochow	4	1	800
St. John's	4	1	800
Nanyang	2	3	400
Nanking	0	4	000
S. E. Univ.	0	4	000

There is still a game between Nanking University and the Southeastern University unplayed but it is understood that it will not be played off. Nanking has challenged the S. E. U. team for the game which will lift one of the two teams from the bottom position, but the S. E. U. men have not accepted the invitation.

CAPTAIN EVANS TO TALK ON THE 'DOVER PATROL'

A lecture which promises to be of unusual interest will be given next Friday at the Lyceum Theater by Captain Evans, C. B., D.S. O., R. N., who will speak on "The Dover Patrol." The lecture, which is being given under the auspices of the Navy League, will begin at 9:15 p.m. and Captain Evans has kindly consented to hand over the whole of the proceeds to the Navy League, Shanghai Branch, Bluejackets' Entertainment Fund.

Tickets, price $3.00 each, will be obtainable by application to the Hon. Secretary of the Navy League, and at the Shanghai Club, Country Club and Race Club. The booking will not be open to the general public, but holders of these tickets will be able to exchange them for seat vouchers at Messrs. Moutrie and Co.'s office on and after Tuesday, April 4.

In the course of his lecture, which will be of a popular rather than a technical nature, Captain Evans will turn the searchlight on to many of the little sideshows of naval warfare, such as the exploits of Captain Gordon Campbell, V. C. and the incomparable "Sixth Flotilla," which was practically annihilated in its four years vigil kept on the Belgian Coast. Captain Evans' story also includes the work of the naval siege guns' crews in Flanders, a particularly interesting history bringing to light the exploits of a corpulent old Elizabethan type of sailor who was a magician in the handling of heavy weights. This officer, Commander Bickford, D.S.O., in one night transferred a 57-ton gun from Dunkerque to Adinkerke, a distance of 16 miles; the 12-inch gun mounting alone weighed 53 tons and this, with the slide ammunition and so forth, was all transported along the Flemish roads, much to the astonishment of the villagers.

To judge by Captain Evans' book a vein of humor runs through this narrative, especially as Commander Bickford's gun crews were drawn from scalliwag formations as well as from such highly trained artillerymen as the R.M.A.

Incidents of the destroyer raids and the diversity of the surprise ruses planned by the Dover Admirals crowd the lecture and, throughout it all, judging by the reports of the lecture in Great Britain, runs a sincere and generous tribute to the officers and men of the Mercantile Marine.

This lecture was first given by Captain Evans at the Queens Hall, London, on which occasion the first Lord of the Admiralty occupied the chair.

COURT ORDERS RECEIVER FOR POINT HOTEL

A temporary receiver was ordered appointed yesterday by the Mixed Court for the Point Hotel, the affairs of which have been under litigation for some time.

Yesterday Mr. P. W. Goldring, representing Mr. Frederick Richmond, proprietor of the hotel, renewed his previous application that his client be declared bankrupt and that counsel be appointed receiver. The motion was opposed by Mr. Shoenfeld, appearing for the largest creditors, and by Mr. M. B. Brown, appearing for three British creditors, on grounds that the majority of creditors had not been consulted and that all assets of the place had not been shown, including an automobile.

Mr. L. K. Kentwell appeared for other creditors and Dr. Fischer was present, it is understood, on behalf of Mr. F. Pariani, owner of the hotel premises. The case is being heard by Assessor Tenney and Magistrate Loh.

Mr. Shoenfeld stated that in the face of the Court's injunction against the removal of anything from the premises one of the creditors was making an attempt to sell the property and an advertisement had appeared in the papers stating that the sale was to take place under instructions from the Registrar of the Mixed Court. Counsel suggested that there was collusion between Mr. Richmond and Mr. Pariani.

Mr. Brown endorsed Mr. Shoenfeld's remarks and said he felt it was not to the advantage of creditors that the business be wound up and the lease terminated and he was not satisfied that the landlord had any right to close up.

Mr. Goldring submitted, with reference to the advertisement in the papers, that perhaps the injunction had been overlooked. He contended that the appointment of a receiver was absolutely necessary or business could not be carried on during the "paying months."

The court ruled that the whole of the hotel's affairs should be placed in the hands of a temporary receiver, who would try to collect outstanding debts and investigate the matter thoroughly, submitting a report to the court as to the best plan for settling the various claims.

He didn't know he was going 112 miles an hour. He never thought that he was smashing all records to smithereens.

All he knew was that she was there. She wanted and needed him. He was going to her—in a car that was more than a brother to him.

Men who love the touch of the wheel, women who love the throb of a mighty engine—children who coo and shout at the chug-chug of a car—they should see Wallace Reid in this great story of the road that is torn by an inferno of tearing wheels.

DRAMA-ETERNAL, starring

DOROTHY PHILLIPS

The drama of every woman's yesterday, to-day and to-morrow

Beautiful beyond conception. Thrilling beyond anticipation. Outspokenly dramatic beyond comparison.

Not its thousands of players, not its barbaric beauties, not its pagan dancers, not its massive scenes, not its sweeping panoramas make it great. They are but a background for its triumphant theme of mother right and mother love.

IT IS NOT JUST A PICTURE, IT IS THE GREATEST LESSON IN LOVE!

Confucian Literature Topic Of Interesting Talk To American Clubwomen

The Literary Department of the American Woman's Club met yesterday afternoon in the rooms of the Royal Asiatic Society and heard two excellent papers. Mrs. F. J. White, of the Shanghai Baptist College was prevented by illness from reading her scholarly paper on "The Confucian Literature" but Mrs. Beaman read the article in her place. Mrs. White purposely refrained from a detailed discussion of any individual writings of the great Sage, since special studies of separate writings have been presented to the Department in other papers; but she gave a very clear general outline of the whole body of Confucian writings. It is hoped to have a more detailed report of her address in Sunday's issue.

Mrs. White's paper emphasised the fact that although Confucianism is regarded as one of the three religions of China, his writings were ethical rather than religious. The widespread knowledge of his doctrines is largely due to the fact that their study constituted practically the whole of the ancient system of education and every well educated student of the former days committed to memory great sections of these writings now designated as "The Five Classics" and "The Four Books."

As Confucius looked backward to the Golden Ages and had little respect for the present or hope for the future his influence had always encouraged the Chinese in their perpetuation of time-honored customs and reverence for the past. His insistence on ritual, his elaborate directions for life, and glorification of filial piety as the center of all the virtues have been indelibly impressed upon the ethical thinking of his people.

SPEAKS ON CHOU DESIGN

Miss Lucille Douglass, who presented a paper on "The Development of Design in the Chou Dynasty," brought to her researches into this early artistic period a mind trained by extensive study and practice in design both in the United States and Europe. She is particularly interested in Moorish design and has done research work in Spain as well as lecturing on Design and Color.

By approaching her subject from the standpoint of a fellow-craftsman Miss Douglass was enabled to inspire in her audience that sense of interest and appreciation of good workmanship which bridged the gulf between 1122-255 B.C. and 1822 A.D. and evoked a genuine sympathy with the forgotten workman who expressed his ideal of beauty in the designs he graved on the temple bells and thus formulated principles which are still influencing modern art.

In order to give an understanding of the place of the Chou Dynasty in China's art development, the speaker sketched briefly its relation to the preceding and subsequent epochs, beginning in the 3d millenium B.C. with the rumors of certain bronze cauldrons belonging to the Shang Dynasty, 1766-1122 B.C. Miss Douglass quoted fenellosa in support of the theory that Chinese art is the only large form of world art combining the creative impulses from both Eastern and Western art, instancing the fact that the first trace of design, showing the slanting eyes, is found on the lintels of doorways in New Zealand, totem poles of Alaska and New Guinea, and the pottery of the Aztecs.

WAS THIRD ART 'WAVE'

"The Chou Dynasty," said Miss Douglass, "represents the third wave of Chinese art in which the sacrificial vessels took precedence over all other forms, with varied designs, both for vessels and temple bells. The bronzes show a simple dignity of outline and a grace of form, though the decoration has a tendency to elaboration, both in the geometric and natural motifs.

"The key pattern or Thunder Scroll is found here, with cloud backgrounds enveloping dragons and other storm powers of the air. The human figure never occurs and vegetable forms are rare but occasional sketches of animals, particularly the tiger, appear. The trend of art in the Chou Dynasty was symbolic and strove for expression in geometric representations. The singular state of civilisation existing at that time threw the artists back upon themselves and wherever there is no competition with outside influences any school is apt to overdevelop itself.

"This is evidenced by the fact that as the Chou Dynasty became more stiff and formal the over-elaboration of design and insistence on ceremonial decay brought on an age of aesthetic decay which paved the way for the art revolt which introduced the gracious beauty and freedom of the Han Dynasty."

By unanimous vote of the department members the names of Mrs. J. H. Gray and Mrs. B. A. Edwards were added to the Program Committee. It was announced that Mr. Newton Hayes will shortly publish his book on "The Chinese Dragon," part of which he presented before the Department in a lecture last Autumn. The next meeting of the Department will take place on April 14, at which time Mrs. Mabee will speak on "Mencius and his Writings" and Mrs. Edwards on "The Conquering State of Tsin."

Bessie Dollar Hit By Stiff Gale While On Previous Trip

The Bessie Dollar, one of the fleet of the Robert Dollar Company, which is expected from Vancouver in Shanghai on April 10, encountered a very severe gale after leaving Vancouver in the middle of January.

The steamer put back to Vancouver, reaching that port two weeks after she had left it. The only damage done was to her superstructure. Many of her life boats were carried away during the gale. The cargo was found undamaged, the holds being absolutely intact.

The Bessie Dollar is now on her way to Moji.

BANDIT LEADER, SENTENCED ONCE, TO BE TRIED AGAIN

Charges of murder and robbery will be brought in the International Mixed Court against the twenty-three year old thug, Wong Siau-di, recently convicted by the French Mixed Court for similar crimes in the French Concession and sent to the Arsenal authorities for trial there.

Wong has confessed to participation in no less than 30 murders and robberies and admitted that he was one of the band surrounded in the Pakhoi Road lodging house last spring when two Chinese constables were killed and Inspector J. W. Prince was wounded.

Two other Chinese of the 18 in all who were rounded up have also been given the death sentence and with five others are in the custody of the Settlement authorities. The five received prison and expulsion sentences in the French Court.

From the famous novel by

The man "who lifted himself up by his bootstraps"! They say it can't be done. Here was a man who did. They say "they never come back". Again "they" are wrong. Sherry was prodigal with his money and his friendship. When the first was gone the friends went also, save one or two "who didn't count for much", with others. And yet he set himself to win, and he won, in spite of his unsaintly reputation. His first victory was himself and the second the Girl.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

March 31, 1922

Spot and forward bar silver were again up ⅛d. in London yesterday.

The New York price advanced to 65¾ cents, and the London-New York cross rate to 437¼.

Our official Sterling rate today was raised to 3-3, the Gold Dollar rate to 71¼, the Franc rate to 790, and Yen rate dropped to 67¼.

Our market throughout the morning was very firm indeed, business in Sterling being done as high as 3-4⅝ for cash and 3-4½ for April-May.

Gold Dollars were done at 74 for cash and 73¾ for April May.

These were the highest rates done, however, and late in the morning there were buyers of Sterling for April at 3-3½ and for May-June at 3-3⅜.

There were buyers of Gold Dollars at the same time at 73¾ for April and 73⅝ for May-June.

In the afternoon, however, rates eased off somewhat, speculators being more inclined to buy than sell. At the close there were no sellers of Sterling at better than 3s. 3½d. for any delivery to June. Gold Dollars were offering at 73⅝ for April and 73¼ for May-June. The market closed on the easy side.

India bought a small amount of silver in London yesterday and the market there, as well as in New York, is reported as steady.

Hankow Market

FINANCE

Bar Silver remained steady at 33¼ ready, 33⅛d. forward to 33⅜d. ready 33¼d. forward and at the former rate it closed. T.T. has been done from 1d. to 1¼d. over the official rate of 3s. 3d. with a very small cut forward. Banks have been quoting from 3s. 6¼d. to 3s. 5¾d. for 4 m-s. credits but very little business has come out. New York-London cross rate rose from 432⅛ on 15th instant to 440¼ on 20th instant fell to 438 on 21st and advanced again on 22nd instant to 439. Market rates T.T. on Shanghai fell from 97.4 to 97.15 with a weaker tendency. Local currency $ advanced from 70.525 to 70.675 at which rate the market is firm. Native interest dropped from 9 percent to 5 percent.

EXPORTS

A few forward sales in wood oil are reported and a little business has been done in cow hides at lower prices, otherwise the market shows no improvements from our last report.

IMPORTS

Piece Goods:—A fair amount of enquiry has been experienced and sales from stock are reported, particularly in greys. Whites and blacks are stagnant. Prices throughout appear to be steady.

Yarn:—The signs of improvement reported last week have been maintained and clearances are good.

SZECHUEN BODY OPPOSES BRITISH POLICY IN THIBET

Treaties Unfair, Say Reports Sent To Peking And Canton

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, March 23.—The Szechuen Association on Thibetan Affairs has sent reports to both the Northern and Southern Chinese Governments calling attention to the vital relation which Thibet bears to the Province of Szechuen. According to the reports received today there is a strong protest against the assumption of British influence in Thibet and the recent treaties made by the British Empire with Thibet are held to be injurious to China's interest as well as to her sovereign rights.

Thibet they say is adjacent to Szechuen and the two territories are mutually dependent economically. This great fertile region and these resources of mineral should not be lost to China and they urge the cancellation of the British treaties and demands which are likened to the famous Japanese twenty-one. The alleged obnoxious treaties are cited as follows:

CONCLUDED IN INDIA

The first was concluded in India in the 15th year of Kuang-Hsu and was a frontier settlement with reservation that no salt, no tea, and no wine should be permitted to be imported into Thibet. This treaty was apparently reluctantly accepted by the Thibetans, who are said to have continually referred to a settlement concluded in the 58th year of Chien Lun.

In the 30th year of Kuang-Hsu another treaty was drawn up, but was not signed by the Chinese delegate, because it stipulated that the British be granted the privilege of trading within Ah-tungkuan. Later Tong Shao-yi was delegated to India for a reconsideration of the problem with the result that the Pu-tah-la-san treaty was concluded as an appendix to all previous treaties.

SIX DEMANDS

This Szechuen Society upon Thibetan Affairs now makes the allegation, according to reports from Chengtu, that the British Empire has sought the annexation of Thibet ever since the Republic of China was formed. It is stated that in this connection the British have submitted six demands to the Chinese Government as follows:

1. The British Empire shall recognise Thibet as Chinese territory. The Chinese Government shall permit Thibet to have self government.
2. The Tah-ling Lama shall be the head of the Buddhist religion in Thibet. He shall be duly decorated with honors.
3. No Chinese soldiers shall be stationed in Thibet.
4. The frontiers of Thibet shall be settled by a new commission.
5. Thibet shall have autonomy as far as its administration is concerned. The Chinese Government and the British Empire shall not be allowed to interfere with this internal government.
6. The treaties concluded between the British Empire and Thibet shall be recognised as valid.

"This," holds the Szechuen society, "is unreasonable. To yield to these demands would be a national shame. The Government should hold all treaties made between Thibet and the British Empire as null and void unless they were signed by a representative from the lawful Chinese Government. New treaties should not be concluded unless justice is done to all concerned and the Thibetan question should be reopened. It is expected that the whole nation will support the Government in its negotiation with the British Government or the protection of Chinese rights in Thibet."

AMERICA-CHINA TRADE FALLS OFF DURING FEBRUARY

Imports Into States Gold $2,300,000 Under January Figure

America's trade with China during the month of February showed a decrease —particularly in imports to the States—as compared with the previous month, according to a cable message received at the office of the American Commercial Attache here from the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce at Washington.

Exports to China for the month totaled G.$7,400,000, as against G.$7,600,000 for February, and imports from China to the United States stood at a valuation of G.$8,300,000, a decrease of G.$2,300,000.

The message states further that there has been a rejuvenation of the steel market owing to the buying of railroad equipment. Prices in America are reported as being irregular with domestic buying increasing slightly and an increase noticeable in imports. The securities markets are reported as being active.

Complete figures for the last three months in China trade are as follows:

	Exports from U.S.A. to China
December, 1921	G.$7,300,000
January, 1922	7,600,000
February, 1922	7,400,000
Total	G.$22,300,000

	Imports from China to U. S. A.
December, 1921	G.$7,400,000
January, 1922	10,600,000
February, 1922	8,300,000
Total	G.$26,300,000

Chang In Conference With Foreign Envoys

(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, March 29.—Chang Tso-lin is now in consultation with foreign Consuls here, and though the substance of the conversation has not yet been fully revealed, it is generally observed that having already resolved to rouse himself to action for the sake of carrying into effect the unification of the North and South in co-operation with Dr. Sun Yat-sen, Marshal Chang Tso-lin is at present endeavoring to effect an understanding with the Consular Body here.

It is reported in Chinese political circles that Marshal Chang has already completed the preparation of trains with the object of transporting of two mixed brigades into Chihli province. Belief is rife that there is a secret understanding between Marshal Chang and Dr. Sun Yat-sen to attack General Wu Pei-fu on both North and South.

Who Gets Paid, And Who Doesn't

BY JOSEF W. HALL

ORDINARY business pays its employees first, its current obligations—under which head come supplies—second, its funded obligations and interest thereon last. If any money is left from gross profits, it is held over to the shareholders' or directors' meeting to be deposited as reserve, invested, or parcelled out as dividends.

Chinese government railways have reversed the process—with the exception of the employees, who come up or down in the list, according to their initiative and ability to coerce the railway administrations. But funded obligations are met first—that is, after the demands of the militarists and graft of the officials, railway and government. Payments upon supplies are met last: or when, as at present, revenues, because of illegal requisition, corruption and maladministration show no net, they remain unpaid.

The situation is interesting in its relative effect upon investors and business men of various nationalities who have financed and supplied equipment to the Chinese railways. Holders of the funded obligations are predominantly British. Some are French. Suppliers (in recent years) are largely American and Japanese. The Britons and Frenchmen are getting paid. The Americans and Japanese are not. They are carrying.

Equipment to a value of between Mexican fifteen million dollars and Gold ten million dollars has been supplied the Chinese railways by American firms within the past two years. Some of this has been placed through Japanese agents but the ultimate creditors are Americans. The great bulk has been sold and delivered upon long-term credits, with stipulated dates for payment of instalments and interest. None of these obligations is being met as per stipulation. Yet the keenness of American car, rail and locomotive manufacturing concerns to get in on China contracts, and possibly as well as the lack of demand for their products at home and elsewhere, inspire them to continue doing business upon repeatedly deferred hopes of eventual payment.

The Peking-Hankow line is a typical Chinese government railway operated without restraint on the part of the foreign financiers. Factional politics cause such frequent changes in its executive personnel that no semblance of continuous or efficient administrative policies can exist. Its gross revenues are requisitioned to support the armies of General Wu Pei-fu and it is only by luck that railway officials succeed in holding back a little money for upkeep. The railway is constantly disrupted and continually kept in a state of acute rolling-stock shortage by petty wars and military manouvers. Yet, last October, the railway met its annual amortisation payment upon funded obligations amounting to £240,000, and its semi-annual interest payment upon same of £90,000. And the following interest payment which is always held in fund for six months was set aside. The railway professes its preparedness to meet this spring's interest payment of £90,000 on time, in April, and to set aside a further £90,000 in fund for the fall payment.

How is it done? In ways devious and dark—or at least, shady. While the possibility of foreclosure is averted, the rightful dues of those who have supplied the working materials of the railway but have no power of foreclosure go by default.

Yet, so rich is the field in which the Chinese Government Railways operate, so certain are they to pay all obligations and profits if given only half a chance, corporations find it difficult to cease doing business with them. Eternal springs the hope that some miracle of reform in government management will take place which will give the railways that "half-chance," or that conditions will get so unendurably bad that the calling in of foreign administrative assistance can no longer be postponed.

CHINESE EXCLUSION HERE

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS.

Dear Sir.—I thoroughly agree with what your "Chinese" correspondent has said regarding the exclusion of Chinese from public parks of Shanghai. He has no doubt voiced the sentiments of the Chinese people as a whole. But it is no use for us Chinese to keep growling about it; nevertheless, it is a shame. We would like, however, our foreign friends to discuss it and see what they have to say. Yours cordially,

D. Y.

Editor: THE CHINA PRESS.

Sir.—Surely it is time to call a halt to the increased prices of admission to theaters and picture shows. The latest, and surely the limit is $5, $3, and $2, announced in today's papers, by the Olympic Theater. If my memory serves me right the cost of admission for the same class of picture shows in America is .25 cts. and England 1s. 6d. for the same style of seat which the Olympic is asking a mere $3.00.

The Shanghai public showed in no uncertain fashion their disapproval to a proposed increase by the world-famous artist Miss Marie Tempest. Surely if a star of this magnitude is unable to obtain these fancy prices, are we going to allow picture theaters to raise their already high prices nearly 100 percent? When pictures such as "Intolerance" were shown no such prices were asked.

It is up to the public to show that these things are not essential and put a stop to these high-handed methods, for nowadays with business at a standstill we must do without lots of things. Why not start now and cut out pictures until they come down to earth again?

Enclosing my card, I am, Sir,

"REASON."

Mrs. Asquith To Do Book On U. S.

Volume To Contain All The Piquant Qualities That Made Her Diary Famous

Mrs. Margot Asquith while making her American lecture tour is said to be gathering impressions for a book on that country. Those who have had the privilege of chatting with that sprightly lady are convinced that her proposed work will not be lacking in any of the piquant qualities that have made her famous. What is more, it is likely to be extremely flattering despite the strenuous life she has been leading since she landed a few days ago.

What Mrs. Asquith passed through within forty-eight hours after disembarking from the Carmania was gathered from a talk that a reporter had with her hard-working secretary, who was discovered on Wednesday evening in a room at the Ambassador Hotel, attempting with an assistant to sort and read two sacks of United States mail, while incidentally endeavoring to meet the demands of incessant callers, a large proportion of whom were newspaper representatives. Although it was nearly 5 o'clock, they were still arriving.

"This is the end of a perfect day remarked the secretary with a groan. "We were kept busy answering telephone calls until past midnight, and were at it again at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Before noon we had visits from at least thirty photographers, including various moving-picture men, all of whom insisted that Mrs. Asquith pose for them. Then came two score newspaper writers for special interviews, followed by a legion of people of all kinds. Some wanted Mrs. Asquith to autograph copies of her diary. There were even high school girls who were eager to see her and express their admiration. Telegrams have been pouring in from all parts of the country begging her to visit various towns to lecture and receive municipal honors."

One of the telegrams was from the Mayor of St. Louis. He apparently had the impression that Mrs. Asquith had just arrived from darkest Russia, as he called attention to the fact that his city was in the "largest food-producing belt in the world" while incidentally begging the distinguished visitor to attend a reception tendered by the Chamber of Commerce and also to receive the freedom of St. Louis.

Cranks of several types had swollen the list of callers during the day. One was an elderly Briton, who insisted that he had voted for the Liberal Party in England since the days of Gladstone and Disraeli and was anxious to shake hands with Mrs. Asquith as the wife of a former Liberal Prime Minster.

A determined-looking woman, who professed to represent some woman's society, demanded why Mrs. Asquith was not in Washington with her husband attending the armament conference instead of gallivanting about America delivering lectures. When she was informed that Mr. Asquith was in London and that the Right Hon. Arthur Balfour had been representing Great Britain in Washington, she took it all back.

"I always get those two men mixed," she explained. "You see Englishmen are so much alike it's hard to tell the difference. But, anyway, I think Mrs. Asquith ought to be at the conference. I've heard she's called the woman with the serpent's tongue. Such a woman is badly needed among those delegates. They waste too much time. She might get them to work faster and do something worth while."

In the midst of this narration Mrs. Asquith, who had just returned from a shopping expedition with her daughter, Princess Bibesco, appeared on the scene and announced that for at least half an hour she would see no callers and was not to be disturbed. As a special privilege, however, the reporter for the New York Times was invited to have a chat while she sipped a cup of tea instead of puffing her usual cigarette.

On reaching her sitting room Mrs. Asquith sank into a lounge with an air of exhaustion and remarked:

"I'm not an American, but your Declaration of Independence, I believe, insists that ordinary mortals are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. I can heartily subscribe to that sentiment after the busiest forty-eight hours I have ever known in my life.

"I don't object to chatting about my American experiences or anything else in reason," Mrs. Asquith added, with a characteristic touch of humor, "but please do not ask me to give my ideas of long or short skirts, the League of Nations, women's suffrage, prohibition and the Irish question, or ask me whether I think Lloyd George will be re-elected."

Despite her strenuous life, Mrs. Asquith seemed to radiate optimism and good cheer. At close range she does not look anything like so angular as the caricaturists make her. She has a magnetic personality, an air of distinction and remarkable grace and self-possession. Her features indicate strength of purpose. She has, indeed, what she has called herself "a hawky nose" and a square jaw but she also has fine brown eyes, in which there continually lurks a humorous twinkle, and a forehead that betokens breadth of intellect. Her voice is clear and well modulated; she has the well-bred English accent and in conversation one catches every word that she utters.

Certain topics having been pronounced taboo, the interview turned on Mrs. Asquith's first impressions of New York.

"Without any desire to be over-flattering," she remarked, "I can honestly say that I am delighted with New York, which I think is the most beautiful modern city in existence. Spaciousness, airiness, brightness and a notable lack of the grimness which distinguishes London, are, I should say, its outstanding features. I must even confess to having a great admiration for the skyscrapers. There is a tradition England that American skyscrapers are ugly, but I am inclined to think that it arose in the early days, when your big buildings were designed on what might be termed the packing-case style of architecture. The improvement in architecture, however, has kept pace with the development of steel construction, and has given an air of beauty to to even your most towering buildings. They have been called 'symphonies in stone,' and that, I think, expresses it admirably.

"Some time ago I happened to see some etchings of New York skyscrapers by Joseph Pennell, and had an idea that they must have been idealised to a great extent, but I can plainly see that Mr. Pennell's impressions were correct. Architecture, I may add, is one of my hobbies, and that is why I have taken such an interest in studying the buildings since my arrival."

Mrs. Asquith's impressions of the people she has encountered in New York appeared to be just as favorable as her impressions of the city.

"I had always been told," she remarked, "that people in New York were in such a hurry that although well meaning enough, they were inclined to appear somewhat rude to strangers. I have found it to be just the reverse. During my first strolls in the streets, in the shops and elsewhere I have found everybody most courteous. Your stores, I may say, are the finest I have even seen, not excepting those of Paris. Their displays are remarkable, especially in the costume departments. Their spaciousness impressed me greatly. Even at a crowded time it was not difficult to move about. In London, where our shops, are mostly cramped and old-fashioned, it would be impossible for such large numbers of people to find admittance.

"It has been extremely interesting to me to study the different types of Americans here and especially to note the result of the great infusion of races which is very wonderful. Frankly, I much prefer the Americans I have met here to the majority of those I have met abroad. In England two classes of Americans are most in evidence, the society people, who do not differ very much from society people in any other country, and the American tourists who flock to Bloomsbury—or Gloomsbury, as some of our humorists call it. The latter, I hardly think, would be considered representative of New York.

"Last night," Mrs. Asquith continued, "I was at a fashionable gathering at the house of one of your best known society people, and had an opportunity to meet a host of extremely nice women all smartly dressed, just as you would meet in London or Paris on a similar occasion, probably because we all get our clothes from the same costumier in Paris. What impressed me, however, was the extreme cordiality shown to a stranger. In England we are inclined to take less trouble with a guest and introductions are comparatively few."

U. S. Birth Rate Shows Decrease

America, which once boasted of the highest birth rate of the great nations of the world, has dropped into second place as a result of the tendency now general throughout the country of limiting the size of families.

Births each year equal a total which is slightly greater than 2 percent of the total population. The actual number of births a year is about 2,500,000.

Japan, whose population is growing faster than that of any other country, has a birth rate approximately equal to 3.2 percent of the total population.

Nearly 2,000,000 births occur each year in Japan, which at present has a population about half that of the United States.

The rate at which births occur in the United States at present is only slightly greater than the rate in France and other European nations in proportion to the total population.

In France the birth rate is 1.9 percent of population. In England and Italy the rate is a fraction higher than in France. In Australia, however, the rate is 2.4 percent of population, or greater than in the United States.

England and Wales, with a total population of 37,000,000, report approximately 960,000 births a year; France has only 400,000 births per year, with a population of 41,000,000. This includes Alsace-Lorraine. In Italy 700,000 births are reported a year, while the population returns show 36,000,000 inhabitants.

Japan is increasing her population at a rate of 12 percent, when there is taken into consideration the excess of births over deaths. In France the rate of increase is about 2 percent.

Under all usual circumstances the United States should have the world's highest birth rate.

In America the population is smaller per square mile than in any of the great nations.

This should mean more food, cheaper food and greater general comfort for all. It explains in part why America since its beginning has been the mecca of immigrants. It is why the United States spelled opportunity for the immigrants from all sections of the globe.

Japan with her limited area and crowded population should be just the converse of the United States. Her birth rate should be the smallest in the world instead of the largest.

Japan, expanding her population in spite of adverse circumstances, is trying to find relief through expansion of territory.

Sociologists, who have no voice in international political and territorial conferences, say that Japan is a proper experiment station for the birth control theories. Informally this was suggested in connection with the Conference on the Limitation of Armaments, Pacific and Far Eastern Questions.

Under the phrase, "limitation of population," the theories of "birth control" have been discussed by statesmen for centuries. In this connection the matter becomes purely economic rather than social.

Limitation of population heretofore has been studied in connection with food supplies. In this phase it is again before the political councils of the world. Some officials of this Government believe that within a few decades some artificial means must be found to check the growth of population in various countries unless science and commerce find a method of largely increasing the world's food supply. These views, however, are expressed privately and not officially.

The growth of population throughout the world is outstripping the increase in the food supply. Since 1914 the world has reduced food consumption about 10 percent, it is estimated by Government officials.

The Week's Market Report

In their weekly report on the Shanghai Piece-Goods Trade, Messrs. Noel, Murray and Company write as follows:

Cotton.—The movement this week has been slightly downward. In Liverpool the rates ruling yesterday were 10.70d. for Spot Good Middlings, 10.24d. for May and 10.12d. for July. Bengals were up to 7.65d. and Egyptians down to 17.75d. In New York Spot is down to 17.85 cents, and the forward rates are all lower at 17.68 May, 17.08 July, 16.68 October, 16.58 December and 16.47 cents for January. Bombay prices are firmer at Rs. 344 for Fully Good Bengals, Rs. 393 for Fine Oomras and Rs. 449 for Fully Good Broach.

Home Market.—There is no change to note in the conditions in Manchester, prices are being maintained and cut offers are not acceptable by market. The volume of business done has been small.

Local Market.—Gloom seems to follow up joy pretty rapidly on this market and it is somewhat difficult this week to discover much trace of the improvement that was apparent earlier in the month. This week dealers are complaining they are unable to move some of the goods they bought for delivery after China New Year, notably the better grades of White Shirtings and some of the Grey staples. On the average deliveries in March will not be up to those of the previous month. Mill cloth, however, is reported to be going into consumption quite freely.

Yarn.—No sales of Indian are reported but of local spinnings 10,900 bales have been contracted for, delivery April-June and 4,500 bales have been sold to the retailers for resales in bundles.

Auctions.—46,887 pieces were sold this week at the public sales, which is practically the same quantity as last. Greys were hardly so steady as the Whites were, but the differences all through were slight. Irishes and Jeans were weaker but Bleached T.-Cloths firmed up a few candareens. Turkey Reds were irregular, as usual some weights were wanted and others not in request. Velvets were about steady and the White Lawns gave way slightly probably on account of the increased quantity offered. Fast Black Italians ended up today very weakly, some of the good cloths losing 4, 5 and 6 mace in value. Twills did rather better and Venetians kept about last week's prices.

ROSENFELD REPORT

In their weekly report on the Shanghai cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton.—Throughout this week the market displayed a steady tendency. Mills, however, have been taking more interest in the raw material against their hefty sales of yarn than have been recorded within the last few days. A not surprising feature of the situation is the strength shown daily both in yarn and in cotton. The principle problem before the operators today, is whether this will result in the gradual marketing of the crops as is needed or that the same forced liquidation which took place in the "futures" market will also extend in "spots" in the up-country marts. So far, rumors on this point have been conflicting and the truth is that probably there was some cotton forced out and some sold voluntarily; but the bulk of the cotton is still held by the farmers who intend to market their holdings gradually as the new crop progresses. For the immendiate future, therefore, we feel satisfied that the reaction started will go further and are rather reluctant in encouraging our friends to follow bear ideas too far, and would rather that they meet the situation cautiously by buying on any decline, as we feel that in the near future the "bears' dope" will collapse and that they in turn will be as bullish as they were bearish. The tone of the market firm.

Yarn.—Since our last, the market has been keeping steady. The general tendency continues to be toward higher prices. Some 10,000 bales were sold by Spinners and 6,000 bales second hand, the later sales have been exported during the past week to interior points. We still advocate the policy of investment buying and patiently await developments.

SPUNT AND COMPANY

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their cotton market report.

China Cotton:—Our market during the past week may be said to have been quiet, as the little business that was transacted was on a very small scale and prices showed hardly any fluctuation but remained more on the same level as last reported, with a tendency more to firmness on enquiries for fair quantities.

Whatever stocks that still remain in the interior marts are held back by the farmers who look forward to being well compensated for parting with their holdings before starting on their work of planting for the new season crop, and from appearances of the present cotton situation they may be successful in realising their expectations.

Reports from the U. S. A. as to climatic conditions in the cotton belt there continue to be Bullish, which, coupled with the fact of being unable to cope with the destructivity of the boll weevil in its season, accentuates at the moment the outlook as to prices assuming an upward trend. However, while a good deal may be discounted in respect of the boll weevil scare we are now on the threshold of the new season crop when extreme vigilance must be exercised in order to acquire supplies of the raw material at rates which eventually will prove profitable. Tone of the market, Steady.

FILET LACE

In their report on the lace market, Messrs. Industrial Export (China) Company write as follows:

Filet Laces have further declined during the week, and first-class goods can be purchased at 1.7½ to 1.8 per mesh. There is very little demand and the market is exceedingly quiet.

Large stocks of Irish Crochet Laces are being offered in the market, but there are practically no buyers, and prices are on the easy side.

JUTE FABRICS

Mr. J. A. Fredericks writes as follows in the jute fabrics circular of March 29:

This market continues neglected with the exception of a demand for Heavy C's 2¼ lbs. greenstripe which have been done at Tls. 217 and 216. Hessians have been done at Tls. 88, and Tls. 89 per 1,000 yards.

Anglo-French Investment Co., Ltd.

The annual general meeting of the shareholders of the Anglo French Land Investment Company, Limited, was held on Thursday in the offices of Messrs. A. R. Burkill and Sons, the agents.

The Chairman said:

"Gentlemen: The report and accounts having been in your hands for some time, I will, with your permission, follow the usual course and take them as read.

"During the year under review our Great Western Road houses have been completed and are all let; as we now have no undeveloped properties, the sum of Tls. 10,000 which stood last year at the credit of undeveloped properties reserve has been transferred to depreciation and renewals account.

"The rebuilding of Estate E referred to in my speech last year has been completed and apart from some small alterations and improvement to Estate B which will materially increase the earning power of this property, no rebuilding schemes are contemplated during the current year. The extensive repairs and alterations on our North Szechuen, North Chekiang and Burkill Roads properties were completed during the year under review and these improvements have paid us well. You will notice we propose to allocate Tls. 5,000 this year to special repairs account, this will be used for Estate C.

"Estate A East was sold last year at a profit of Tls. 81,000 this property did not show a very satisfactory return and your Directors consider the sale a very satisfactory one.

"Turning to the accounts, you will notice the profit on working account shows a considerable increase over 1920 with the result that the final dividend has been raised to 4½% making 7½% for the year as against 7% for 1920.

"It is proposed to put Tls. 90,000 to depreciation and renewals. This includes the Tls. 81,000 profit made on the sale of Estate A East. This account will thus stand at Tls. 200,000 about 40% of the total book value of our buildings. Tls. 5,000 to Special Reserve Account I have already referred to. We propose opening a dividend equalisation account with Tls. 20,000 and to carry forward the balance of Tls. 4,929.70.

"Prospects for the current year are good, all our properties are well let and as they are in good condition, the repairs account should be light."

The report and accounts were unanimously adopted.

The appointment of Mr. C. A. Burkill as a Director of the Company was confirmed.

Mr. Gilbert Davis was re-elected a Director of the Company.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were re-elected auditors for the ensuing year.

W.H.C. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous disorders, such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LEFFA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have prescribed your Castoria to many cases and have always found it an effective and speedy remedy."
A. F. FERLER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"For several years I recommended your Castoria and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, harmless effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARDEE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a safe and reliable medicine for infants and children, in fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Sun's Advance Guards In Kiangsi Province; Fighting Under Way, Peking Hears

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 28.—A report received from Kiangsi states that fighting has been in progress between the advance guard of Dr. Sun's army of invasion and troops of Kiangsi province. A telegram was also reported from General Wu Pei-fu announcing the advance of the Southern armies and asking instructions as to his action. This formality was acknowledged by the war department who are said to have replied that there was no change of orders.

Observers from Kiangsi state that about four thousand of Southern troops have succeeded in making their entry and that more are expected as rapidly as they can secure transportation from Kueilin. The northern expedition now is a fact and as a political rather than military move is assuming large proportions. The advance has been delayed both politically and for military reasons by the disorders in Yunnan where General Tang Chih-yao and General Ku Pin-chen have had a small scale civil war.

AIMS AT TRUCE

Urgent measures are being taken to patch up some sort of a truce and Dr. Sun is reported to have made the victorious Tang various promises on condition that he remain quiet. If these promises succeed the Northern advance may continue. With the cabinet situation to all appearances indefinitely deadlocked and an ominous silence from both the northern war camps the importance of the movement in Kiangsi from a political point of view steadily increases. Apparently both Chang and Wu are now waiting on the various negotiations with the South.

The object of the Kiangsi drive, politically, is said to be a liaison between the Southern forces and Chekiang and Fukien where there are lieutenants with leanings toward the Anfu faction, whom Little Hsu will endeavor to entice into the fold. The addition of these forces will undoubtedly strengthen the Southern armies politically, but in view of the widely different factions already assembled it is questionable whether this new group will not be a handicap from a strictly military point of view.

THE SOUTHERN ARMIES

According to statements received from the South the personnel and size of the Southern armies allotted for the invasion is as follows:

60 Battalions of 300 men each under Hsu Chan-chih. General Hsu was a member of the first Peking Parliament and has been always prominent as a reformer. He took an active part in the campaign against the Kwangsi forces in Kwangtung and was with General Chen Chiung-ming when he established the Canton Government. These sixty battalions were raised and organised by Hsu himself. They are well equipped.

40 Battalions under General Li Fu-lui who aided Dr. Sun in re-establishing the "Constitutional Government."

Two complete Brigades of Yunnanese and Kiangsi men, fully equipped under the command of General Li Lee-shun. General Li is a graduate of the Paotingfu military school and later studied under the Japanese high command.

Twenty to twenty-five battalions under General Wan Ta-wei, a German military school graduate.

One division, complete, one mixed brigade, and one artillery brigade under General Kuong Shan-liu who is commander of the second army of Canton. These are the troops sent too aid Dr. Sun by General Chun Chiung-ming and is pointed out as an indication of General Chen's support of the Northern campaign.

Peking Moves To Calm Shantung

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 27.—In order to allay the unrest in Shantung caused by the retention of General Tien Chung-yu as tuchun, the Central Government, according to the Shun Tien Shih Pao, has decided to appoint Mr. Chao Erh-hsun, Director of the National History Compilation Bureau to the post of civil governor of Shantung. It is believed that this step will help to calm down the opposition which has been aroused to the military governor and will also result in a separation of the civil and military power in the province which has long been a desired move. Mr. Chao is popular with the people of his province.

Koo Expects To Return To London

(Reuter's Service)

London, March 30.—Dr. Wellington Koo, the Chinese Minister in London, interviewed by Reuter's Correspondent prior to his departure for the Far East on the P. & O. steamer Khyber, said that the question of his visit to China arose before he left Washington when his Government had requested all the Chinese delegates to report personally.

Dr. Wellington Koo stated that he hoped to return to London in six months and said that the Shangtung settlement had largely cleared up the Sino-Japanese relation.

U. S. Consul At Amoy Objects To Arrest Of Editor

(Special Wire To The China Press)

Amoy, March 31.—Yang Shu, editor of the Yah Shen Pao, a Chinese publication established by American interests, has been sentenced to six months imprisonment, for alleged libel against Chinese officials in Amoy.

A strong protest has been filed by the American Consul against the decision, but little hope is entertained for the pardon of the defendant.
